Minor Declaration Process

The School of Integrative Biology offers two minors: Minor in Integrative Biology and Minor in Ecology & Conservation Biology.

The Minor in Integrative Biology is ideal for students intending to have a career in a field other than biology, but for whom a back-ground in biology is nevertheless complementary, e.g. law, technology, bioinformatics, business, scientific writing, and engineer-ing.

The Minor in Ecology & Conservation Biology points students toward obtaining skills and knowledge in this sub-discipline of biology. Preparation for many careers is advanced by coursework in ecology and conservation, e.g. environmental lawyer, environmental consultant, conservation technician, and environmental educator.

The Minor in Sustainability, Energy, and Environment Fellows Program (SEE FP) is a campus-wide undergraduate minor that prepares students for pursuing careers in the corporate sector, nonprofit organizations, government agencies and environmental advocacy groups.

Requirements to Declare IB Minor:

- Meet Required Course Prerequisites ie. IB 150 & MCB 150 (For courses that require MCB 150 Knowledge ie. IB 204)
